Lift the lid on the sunshine tucked in a tin of "Tux" and you'll make a crowd of good fellows feel happy and jolly as a bunch of boys when school's out.

"Tuxedo has all the good qualities I had hoped for and many more than I had expected. Many of my fellow-smokers agree with me."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

To imitate perfection is a large-sized job—and that's just why there never has been a successful imitation of Tuxedo tobacco. The invention of the original "Tuxedo Process" right away put Tuxedo in a class by itself—and kept it there.

That famous process makes Tuxedo the mildest, mellowest, wholesomest, pleasantest smoke on earth, without the faintest trace of bite in a million pipefuls.

Try Tuxedo for a week and you'll smoke it for the rest of your life.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

WATERBURY

Emerson Johnson Lost Nine Head of Cattle By Drowning.

Three of the cattle which Emerson Johnson let out to water in the river had survived their icy bath and were living Saturday night. Twelve were let out to water where they had been all winter and broke through the ice into the river. Seven went under and could not be located. Five were rescued, two of these dying. They were young stock, one, two and three years old.

The funeral of William Hill was held from the home of his son, Rev. Wilbur P. Hill, at the Center Saturday morning, Rev. B. P. Parker officiating. The bearers were the three sons and Edward Mowrey. Burial in the cemetery at South Duxbury.

Prof. O. K. Hollister of Barre addressed the brotherhood of the Methodist church Friday evening on "Principles of Local Option," and made a strong plea for the Perry bill. The supper served was in charge of C. C. Holmes. The speaker was pleasantly introduced by Rev. Verne L. Smith.

The seniors of the W. H. S. gave their play, "The Time of His Life," in semi-annual chapel at the Center Friday evening to a packed house. All were enthusiastic over the success of the drama, which had been staged under the direction of Mrs. W. J. LeBaron. A concert was given before the entertainment, pieces played between the acts and marches for promenading by Buzzell's orchestra.

The Social club at Duxbury Corner was pleasantly entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Alvin Canerdy.

Albert Turner and Philo Talbert were guests Friday of Orson Turner and Mrs. Louisa Newton.

A sleigh by the side of the road between the Bulkeley and Baird places at Duxbury Corner Saturday morning told the story of trouble the night before. The story goes that Palentine Corbiss and Harold Henry of North Fayston, who went to Burlington on the morning train, returned at midnight. At Essex they had some trouble over some goods bought and lost the same and in the difficulty received some bruises. Arriving here at midnight they started to drive home and hurrying through the little covered bridge they struck the drift by Alvin Canerdy's and were tipped over. A little further on the horse freed itself and traveled to Scrabble hill, where the animal was found the next morning in the yard of Bartholomew Tobin. The gentlemen had to walk home, a distance of 12 miles.

Death of S. B. Chandler at Age of Nearly 83 Years.

S. B. Chandler passed away Tuesday night at the home of his son, Harry, after an illness of several weeks, at the age of 82 years and nine months. He had been a resident of this place for over 40 years. Funeral services were held at the house Thursday afternoon, Rev. F. E. Currier of lower Cabot officiating, and the burial was in the family lot here. The flowers consisted of a lovely wreath of roses with the word, "Father," three large sprays of carnations, two pink and one white, and one calla lily blossom. Mr. Chandler is survived by two sons, Frank and Harry, also six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The family have the sympathy of their friends here.

ORANGE

A good-sized audience welcomed Rev. E. F. Newell, pastor of the Methodist church of Barre, Friday night, when he spoke in behalf of the church and grange on the subject of prohibition and the Perry bill. Mr. Newell spoke in a very pleasing and forceful manner, showing that he was master of his subject. Mr. Page, who accompanied Mr. Newell, gave a five-minute talk. The audience showed their appreciation of Mr. Newell's address by a unanimous rising vote of thanks.

Rev. Thomas Hall will speak Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. Mr. Hall comes highly recommended as an evangelist and can speak out of a rich experience of many years of splendid service. This is the first one of the evangelistic services to be held during the next two weeks. Further announcements will follow later. All are most cordially invited to attend these services.

THERE IS A VAST ARMY

of men and women who really never know what it is to enjoy sound, vibrant health—who would be surprised to suddenly gain that exhilarating vitality that robust health brings.
Literally thousands without any particular sickness live in "general debility," as the doctors call it—have headaches, are tired and indifferent. To all such people we say with unmistakable earnestness—"Take Scott's Emulsion for meals for one month and allow its rare oil-food to enrich and enliven your blood, quicken your circulation, stimulate nutrition, and aid nature to develop that red red-blooded life that means activity, enjoyment, success."
Scott's Emulsion is not a drug, but a pleasant food- tonic—free from alcohol. One bottle may help you.

CHAPPED HANDS AN AWFUL SIGHT

Sore, Red and Rough. Continually Cracking Open. Could Not Put Them In Water At All.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I was troubled with chapped hands which first started from exposure to the air. My hands were sore and red and rough and were continually cracking open and bleeding. They were so sore I could not put them in water at all nor even sweep the floor. They were swollen and an awful sight and I didn't want anyone to see them."
"I noticed Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and I sent for a sample. The sample seemed to do so much good that I bought more, and after I had used two bars of Cuticura Soap and one one-half box of Ointment my hands were healed." (Signed) Miss Mae Mattis, 32 Whipple St., Pittsfield, Mass., Aug. 1, 1915.

Italy Seizes German Ships.
Italy has not been at war with Germany. Italy has been fighting Austrians. As the Germans have been busy upon both fronts and in the East, and as Austria has held out against the Italians, German troops have not been sent to help the Austrians. It is almost a technicality, but Italy and Germany have been at peace while Italy has sought to recover Trieste from Germany's chief ally.

German ships have been interned in Italian ports just as they are now interned in American ports. When British troops command of the seas the German merchant vessels took refuge in the nearest neutral port. Now most of the German ships which have lain for 18 months at Italian docks have been seized by the Italian authorities.

An historic parallel may be found in the seizure of American ships by the French during the rule of Napoleon. Napoleon professed friendship for the United States. He strove to get our commerce into the French system and he found certain relief in our purchase of Louisiana in that it gave him needed ready money. Yet he did not hesitate to seize some 500 or 600 of our ships during his struggle with British sea power.

July 2, 1796, the French consuls at Malaga and Cadiz seized more than 300 American vessels simply because they were destined for British ports. The American commission, which went to France to get satisfaction, declared that the loss was upward of $15,000,000.

France and the United States remained at peace in spite of the seizure. It is not impossible that Germany and Italy may remain at peace despite the 34 German ships which Italy has taken; reparation can be made for loss of property, unlike loss of life. It may be, on the other hand, that the measure is merely preliminary to a declaration of war as soon as the Italian Parliament begins its session.—Boston Globe.

RUN-DOWN WOMEN

We Have a Remedy That Will Cost You Nothing if It Does Not Help You
Barre women will please realize that we mean just what we say in the above heading. Letters like the following prove the efficiency of Vinol in such cases:
"For the benefit of the other tired women, I want to say that I keep house for seven in my family. I became run-down, all played out, I did not seem to have any life in me and looked badly. I read so much about Vinol I decided to try it and I must say it helped me in every way. It built me up so I felt like a new woman, and my friends said they could see a great change in me." Mrs. John M. Waldron, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

We recommend Vinol to our customers as the greatest strength creator we know—due to the extractive medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, combined with peptonate of iron and beef peptonate, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.—Adv.

SOUTH CABOT

Hen Buried in Hay Six Months Ago Still Alive—Lived on Hay Only.

Last week while Guy Cassidy was pressing hay for Dr. Hathaway, he found a hen that last August was buried in the hay while haying was being done, and had remained there ever since. The hen was alive and all it had had to live on for six months was hay. It had eaten a large hole in the hay, but had no food nor water in the six months. This sounds big, but can be vouched for by all who were there working.

Mrs. W. O. Southwick wishes to take this opportunity to thank her friends and neighbors and also those of Marshfield who contributed their tickets which helped to win for her the sewing machine in the contest just closed at Lee Shortt's.

Mr. Chambers, the ice dealer, and others in town, who are storing ice for use next summer, are putting in extra time, and some of the teams were at work on Sunday because of the fear that the supply may be cut off any time.

Mrs. Marcella Wardwell died recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Chambers, on Highland avenue, and the funeral was held at the Catholic church and the remains taken to Burlington for interment.

At the meeting of the Brotherhood last week, it was decided to hold their guest night on March 17. There will be a banquet, followed by an address by Dr. John Thomas of Middlebury college.

The thank offering at the Methodist church, at the meeting of the roll call, so far has reached $33, and it is hoped more will be contributed. The service of this church was cancelled on Sunday evening and the people joined with the Bethany church people in the temperance service, when Mr. Stewart of the Flying Squadron was the speaker.
